PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLD'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein: thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.
Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, dries out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.
We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.
A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.
Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occassionally have good second-hand pianos, made over by $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

THE RUSSIAN CENSOR.

A CONTEMPTIBLE FEATURE OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE SYSTEM.

Every Foreign Newspaper Examined and All Objectionable Matter Blotted Out. How Letters Are Violated Without Scruple—Advice to Correspondents.

The censor must examine every copy before it is issued to the public. For his convenience the papers are printed one day in advance. The type of Thursday's paper is set on Tuesday. On Wenesday morning the forms are made up; one copy is printed and sent to the censor, who looks it over at his leisure during the day, and returns it to the office with his official stamp of approval on each page. This copy is carefully filed away as a protection for the editor, who then sets his presses at work and orders the edition distributed to the subscribers. If there is anything in it that the censor cannot approve he marks the objectionable article, which is taken out of the forms and something else substituted. If the censor is otherwise engaged the paper has to wait. Sometimes the issue of Tuesday will be detained till Wednesday and sent out with the Wednesday issue, but it makes very little difference. Last week's paper is just as interesting as today's.

EXAMINATION OF THE MAILS.

All foreign mails are also submitted to the censor, not the same man who reads the local papers, but another, who has his headquarters and a staff of readers at the general postoffice. All newspaper mail is dumped on his table, except that addressed to the members of the diplomatic corps and high officials. That is supposed to be delivered promptly without examination. So the American minister gets his papers sometimes a week ahead of other residents. Every wrapper is opened. If the paper contains an objectionable article, something in the way of criticism of "the administrative system" of Russia, for example, the censor takes a large pad, dips it in the ink and stamps it upon the article, obliterating it. Thus no incendiary ideas are allowed to obtain circulation among the people. No criticisms of the government are allowed to be read, and no news from exiled nihilists.

When the censor has read one copy of a paper, The London Times, for example, he tucks it back into the wrapper and throws it into a basket for delivery, picking up the next paper that comes to his hand. If he finds that it is a copy of The London Times of the same date he stamps out the objectionable article that he has read before and throws it into the basket without further examination. If the first copy examined was found to contain nothing exceptional he examines no more of them, but throws them into the basket as fast as they come. To simplify matters, the circulation of very few foreign papers are allowed in Russia.

The censors cannot possibly read everything sent through the mails, so they confine their labors to the principal journals of Europe and destroy the remainder. One can receive The London Times or News or Standard in Russia, but no other London dailies. He can have Punch and the monthlies, provided they contain nothing objectionable. He can have Figaro, Gil Blas, The Petit Journal and one or two others of the Paris papers, but he cannot get the strong republican papers of that city. The New York Herald is the only American daily that can be taken. The censor will not read any other, so there is no use having them sent. I had two daily papers sent me from the United States all the time I was in Russia, but not one of them was delivered. I was told at the postoffice that the censor does not have time to read every transient paper that came in the mails, and none could be delivered till he had read it. He had only time to read one American paper, and if I wanted to subscribe for that it would be delivered.

This censorship of the mails is the most cowardly and contemptible feature of the Russian administrative system. It is simply a confession of weakness that tempts the average man to sympathize with revolutionary element, and they justly make it one of their chief causes of complaint. The Russian postoffice is under the direction of the police like everything else, and is one of their strongholds.

HOW LETTERS ARE VIOLATED.

They have the power to open letters as well as papers, and often exercise it. In fact there is no limit to their power. If a citizen or a foreigner is suspected of sympathy with the revolutionary element, or is supposed to be in communication with agitators, whether at home or in exile, the police give orders to have all his letters delivered to them. The gum upon the lid of the envelope is moistened by being held over a jet of steam, and opened, or a thin knife with a keen edge is slipped under the seal. The letter is read, resealed and sent back to the postoffice, or it is retained as evidence of treason.

Letters going out of the Russian postoffices are examined, as well as those that come in. All packages addressed to foreign newspapers are opened and their contents read. Correspondents residing in Russia write upon the thinnest sort of stationery, and address the envelopes to individuals or business firms, so as to avoid the espionage of the police, who destroy everything that in any way reflects upon "the administrative system."

All manuscripts carried in bags or trunks by travelers are examined at the Russian custom houses to avoid the circulation of incendiary literature. All newspapers found in the cars that cross the border are seized and destroyed. I had a lot of newspaper clippings in an envelope, which I had cut from time to time, relating to Russia. A gentleman in Berlin, who was familiar with the operations of the Russian police, advised me not to take them with me, as they would certainly cause me trouble if discovered by the police. A gentleman connected with the police at Petersburg, to whom I spoke of this, said my friend's advice was good. If they had been found by some policeman or customs officer, they certainly would have resulted in my detention until my character and purposes had been investigated. He kindly suggested, too, knowing my business, that if I intended to write anything about the country it would be better not to commence till I had passed the borders.

The same espionage is exercised over the telegraph as over the mails. A correspondent dare not send a dispatch by wire from Petersburg to a newspaper. It would never be delivered if it contained anything objectionable, and if it did not, the fact of his having sent such a message would make him the object of suspicion and police attention. Correspondents of foreign newspapers in Russia have arrangements by which they send their news by mail to some agent across the border, who opens the envelope and telegraphs its contents.—William Eleroy Curtis in Chicago News.

AN ODD MICHIGAN VILLAGE.

A Thousand Little Fishing Huts on Ice. The Fisherman's Methods.

"The oddest settlement, I guess, that can be found anywhere in this country," said William Cotter, of East Saginaw, "is Fish City, on Saginaw bay. When I say it is on Saginaw bay, I don't mean that it is on the bay in the sense that Chicago is on Lake Michigan, or that Albany is on the Hudson river, but that it is, in winter time, literally on the bay, and extends for several miles out over its surface. It is a city on the ice, consequently is not founded on a rock, and naturally its existence is not permanent. During the season just past there were 1,000 houses in Fish City.

"This queer town is not laid out with any idea of regularity, and it is not likely that the ordinary regulations for finding a given location in a city would avail there. The buildings in this interesting town are neither large nor imposing, as the biggest one among them is not more than eight feet high or more than six feet square. They are built of common boards, and cover the frozen surface of the bay almostly as thickly as the burrows of a prairie dog village cover the prairie. They are the huts of men who do the winter fishing for pike, pickerel, lake trout and white fish, and as soon as the ice forms on the bay their construction is begun. The fishermen live in their huts from the time they are built until the breaking up of the ice in the spring forces them to come ashore. The furniture of these huts consists of a sheet iron cylinder stove a little over a foot high, with a hole in the top, a stool and a shelf eighteen inches wide, on which the fisherman sleeps. There is a floor in each hut, and in the floor a trap-door twenty inches square. When this is raised a hole of the same size through the ice is discovered. At the side of this the fisherman sits all day and a great part of the night watching for his game, which he captures in a novel manner.

"To decoy the fish to the hole in the ice he takes a herring, which he catches with a hook and line as he needs one, crams a piece of lead four inches long down its throat to make it sink, ties a long string to it by a slip noose over its head, fastens the other end of the string to the ceiling of his hut and lowers the herring to the water. The decoy fish will live an amazing length of time, notwithstanding its stomach and throat are filled with lead, and the ballast makes its efforts at swimming so peculiar that the game fish are quickly attracted to the decoy. When the herring dies the fisherman manipulates the string with one hand while he holds his spear in the other. The water over which these huts are built is from ten to fifteen feet deep, but it is so clear that the bottom is easily seen. To the end of this spear handle the fisherman has a strong string securely fastened, and the string is tied to a nail in one side of the hut, so there is no danger of the weapon being lost in the water in case of accident. A decoy herring will not be long in the water before up will dash some alligator jawed pike, or a big, graceful lake trout, or a glistening whitefish. Like a flash the spear shoots down through the hole in the ice, and it rarely misses its mark. The skill with which these Saginaw bay fishermen throw their spear is equaled only by the Indian spear throwers of the Sault Ste. Marie. The fish run in schools, and the favorite times for fishing are early in the morning and from nightfall until midnight. After dark a lamp with a strong reflector is used to light up the hole in the ice and the water beneath, and then the fishing is the liveliest and at its best. Sometimes a fisherman's wife and two or three children occupy his hut with him all winter long, and seem to suffer no inconvenience from the cramped and not altogether cheerful quarters. From 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 pounds of choice fish are taken in this way every season at Saginaw bay.

"In the spring, when the ice begins to threaten a break up, the prudent inhabitants of this queer city lose no time in taking down their houses and seeking the shore with them. There are always a great many among them, however, who brave the inevitable break up until the last moment, and every spring, in spite of past experiences, some of these are sure to be carried out into the lake by the shifting ice. Tugs are always dispatched by some one to rescue these reckless fishermen, but their sufferings are intense, and it sometimes happens that lives among them are lost before the rescuing parties locate and reach them."—New York Mail and Express.

Do Flying Fish Fly?

It has long been a question with scientists whether flying fish actually fly, or are only carried forward through the air by the impulse which they gave to their bodies while still in the water. Professor Mobins expresses an authoritative opinion, and claims that they are totally unable to fly, for the reason that the muscles which move the pectoral fins are not sufficiently large to bear the weight of their bodies in the air. In birds the average weight of the muscles which are concerned in the movement of the wings is one-sixth that of the entire body; in bats one-thirtenth, while in the flying fish it is only one-thirty-fifth. He affirms, therefore, that the impulse to the propulsion of the fish in the air is delivered while they are still in the water.—Globe-Democrat.

Freaks of the Storm.

Wind-rolled snowballs are often seen on the Dakota and Wyoming prairies. Sometimes millions upon millions of the balls are in sight at one time. Many are of the size of an orange, some as big as a cannon ball, while others reach the proportions of the prize pumkin of the county fair. These freaks of the storm leave a person under the fanciful impression that great armies of school boys have been battling over the snowy space.—New York Star.

A Crystallized Tear.

Maiden lane jewelers are selling amulets, said to contain a crystallized tear from the eye of Cleopatra. Happiness, wealth and good luck will attend the wearer of the amulet, and it will cost you only fifty cents.—New York Tribune.

The decrease of salmon in the Columbia river is causing fishermen to change their base of operations to Alaska.

"PNEUMONIA."

Why Not Call this Terrible Scourge by its Rightful Name?

(New York Telegram.)

Many a strong, well-built man leaves home to-day; before night he will have a chill and in a few hours will be dead!

This is the way the dreaded pneumonia takes people off.

The list of notable men who are its victims is appalling.

It sweeps over the land like a scourge and destroys poor and rich alike.

Everyone dreads it. Its coming is sudden, its termination usually speedy.

What causes it?

Pneumonia, we are told, is invited by a certain condition of the system, indicated if one has occasional chills and fevers, a tendency to cold in the throat and lungs, rheumatic and neuralgic pains, extreme tired feelings, short breath and pleuritic stitches in the side, loss of appetite, backache, nervous unrest, scalding sensations, or scant and discolored fluids, heart flutterings, sour stomach, distressed look, puffy eye sacs, hot and dry skin, loss of strength and virility.

These indications may not appear together, they may come, disappear and reappear for years, the person not realising that they are nature's warning of a coming calamity.

In other words, if pneumonia does not claim as a victim the persons having such symptoms some less sudden but quite as fatal malady certainly will.

A celebrated New York physician told the Tribune that pneumonia was a secondary disorder, the exposure and cold being simply the agent which develops the disease, already dormant in the system, because the kidneys have been but partially doing their duty. In short, pneumonia is but an early indication of a bright's diseased condition. This impaired action may exist for years without the patient suspecting it because no pain will be felt in the kidneys or their vicinity and often it can be detected only by chemical and microscopical observations.

Nearly 150 of the 740 deaths in New York City the first week in April (and in six weeks 781 deaths) were caused by pneumonia!

The disease is very obstinate, and if the accompanying kidney disorder is very far advanced, recovery is impossible, for the kidneys give out entirely, and the patient is literally suffocated by water.

The only safeguard against pneumonia is to maintain a vigorous condition of the system, and thus prevent its attacks, by using whatever will radically and effectually restore full vitality to the kidneys, for if they are not sound, pneumonia cannot be prevented. For this purpose there is nothing equal to Warner's safe cure, a remedy known to millions, used probably by hundreds of thousands and commended as a standard specific wherever known and used. It does not pretend to cure an attack of pneumonia, but it does remove the cause of and prevent that disease if taken in time. No reasonable man can doubt this if he regards the personal experience of thousands of honorable men.

When a physician says his patient has either bright's disease or pneumonia he confesses his inability to cure, and in a measure he considers his responsibility ended. In many instances, indeed, persons are reported as dying of pneumonia, heart disease, apoplexy and convulsions, when the real cause of death and so known by the physician is this kidney consumption. Thousands of people have it without knowing it and perish of it because their physicians will not tell them the facts! The same fate awaits every one who will not exercise his judgment in such a matter.

New Work for Young Women.

The very latest occupation for young women who have been delicately reared, but who are compelled by changes in the mill wheel of life to earn a livelihood, is to clean bric-a-brac in the great mansions of New York. They are called bric-a-brac cleaners, and have brushes made expressly for their duties. Not every young woman can become expert at the business. It requires a delicate touch, the greatest care in handling the treasures, and the knowledge how tastefully to arrange the dainty ornaments in a way that is most pleasing to the owners. The work is refined, and just such as a refined young woman would like.—New York Sun.

Singular Use of Photography.

Kosmos announces a singular adaptation of photography. It is well known that under the microscope steel is found to be an agglomeration of crystals, and that upon the difference in these crystals the quality of the steel can be more or less determined. M. Wedding, to make the observation more complete, heated steel to whiteness, and as the use of the microscope under such circumstances was impossible, he photographed the metal and subjected the negative to microscopic examination.—Photographic News.

Persian Trades Organizations.

There are no trades' unions in Persia, but there is something which suggests it in the partial system of guilds and apprenticeships, although this is by no means universal, not distinctly organized and formulated. For example, the merchants or large traders of Teheran represent a body that has a head called the Malek-i-Tojah, a man of wealth and ability, who in cases of need represents their cause before the shah.—Detroit Tribune Letter.

An Over Anxious Wife.

Wife (whose husband, realizing the need of exercise, has bought a bicycle)—I shall be so anxious, John, dear, until you have learned to ride it well.

Husband (fondly)—Don't get nervous, foolish little one. I shall be very careful.

Wife—You must, indeed, John; remember that the bicycle cost over $100.—The Epoch.

Engravers' Wages.

An engraver on brass usually gets a salary of $3,000 a year and an engraver on steel about the same, according to an expert.

It's better for de 'jority o' men ter stay in de place whar da b'long. De dewberry vine doan grow so long atter i 's lifted erbove de groun'

BLAINE AGAIN DECLINES.

In a letter published in the New York Tribune last Tuesday James G. Blaine has again declined to be a candidate for the Presidency. The letter is written in Paris and bears date of May 15th. Mr. Blaine says: "Since my return to Paris from Southern Italy on the 8th inst., I have learned—what I did not before believe—that my name may yet be presented to the National Convention as the candidate for for the Presidency of the Republican party. A single phrase of my letter of January 25th from Florence—which was decisive to everything that I had personal power to decide—has been treated by many of my most valued friends as not absolutely conclusive in ultimate and possible contingencies. On the other hand, friends equally devoted and disinterested have construed my letter as it should be construed, to be an unconditional withdrawal of my name from the National Convention. They have in consequence given their support to eminent gentlemen who are candidates for the Chicago nomination, some of whom would not, I am sure, have consented to assume that position if I had desired to represent the party in the Presidential contest of 1888. If I should now, by speech or by silence, by commission or omission, permit my name in any event to come before the Convention, I should incur the reproach of being uncandid with those who have always been candid with me. I speak, therefore, because I am not willing to remain in a doubtful attitude. I am not willing to be the cause of misleading a single man among the millions who have given me their suffrages and their confidence. I am not willing that even one of my faithful supporters in the past should think me capable of paltering, in a double sense, with my words. Assuming that the Presidential nomination could by any possible chance be offered to me, I could not accept it without leaving in the minds of thousands of these men an impression that I had not been free from indirection, and therefore I could not accept it at all. Misrepresentations of malice have no weight, but the just displeasure of friends I could not patiently endure."

The Napa Valley Wine Company have flooded San Francisco with circulars announcing that they are prepared to sell "pure table claret for 25 cents per gallon, packages included." An expert who has tasted the wine pronounces it a most excellent article, although less than a year old. Can it be possible that this company, which was started by the producers of Napa county is being manipulated by the San Francisco dealers?

A reward of $500 has been offered by Governor Waterman for the capture dead or alive of the men who lynched young Wright in St. Helena last month. The men engaged in the dastardly crime are known to many people in St. Helena, who dare not testify against them for fear of bodily injury. It is to be hoped, however, that the reward will be sufficient inducement to cause one or more of the cowardly fiends to turn States evidence.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

Washington, May 28th, 1888.

The Lower Branch of Congress is saturated and steeped up to its ears with tariff eloquence. There has been a deluge of tariff talk this week, Speeches follow each other at the rate of from six to ten each day, for or against the Mills bill as may be. On Tuesday there were six speeches; three for the bill and three against it. On Wednesday ten orators held the floor successively, yesterday several long speeches consumed the day. To-day Messrs. Randall, McKinley and Breckinridge, of Ky., will ring out their verdicts, and on Saturday, the prominent Republican leader from Maine, Mr. Reed, and Speaker Carlisle will have the debate all to themselves, and with their speeches it is understood that the general debate on the bill will close.

The report has been current at the Capitol that after the general discussion on the bill has closed, its consideration by sections, and final action upon it will be allowed to go over until after the Democratic National Convention, which will bind every member of the party in Congress to vote for the bill and thus secure its passage. Still no one knows what will be done about the matter at this time, and it is hazardous to venture a prediction.

A speech made by Representative Butterworth, of Ohio, against the Mills tariff bill, was the feature of the debate on Tuesday last. He addressed a full House and much attention was paid him for an hour or so after he had finished. He argued that a tariff was not, strictly speaking, a tax; it was a trade regulation relating to that part of the nation's business which extends to the productions of other countries. He said he could not understand how any Irish-American could stand here as the closest and most earnest ally of England, who was attempting to do to this country what she had done to the Irish homes across the seas.

He created a good deal of laughter by reading an extract from the London Times, declaring that the only time England has any use for an Irishman is when he emigrates to America and votes for free trade, which he invariably does.

The Senate has been slowly doing nothing this week, or rather nothing of importance. One day it indulged in a long, learned debate on the constitutional question as to whether or not the Senate had power to originate an appropriation bill. Senator Hoar was the leading champion of the exclusive authority of the House. Then when the resolution confirming Mr. Turpie's right to his seat was called up and unanimously adopted, Senator Chandler saw fit to dissent from the broad declaration of the committee that the Senate had no right in such a case to question the regularity of the election of members of State Legislatures, and believed that exceptional cases might arise wherein the Senate should not so broadly relinquish authority. This led to a long discussion.

But this remiss body has made a number of special orders for next week. For instance the three bills for the admission of Washington, North Dakota and Montana Territories will be taken up next Thursday, and it is thought all three of them will be disposed of on that day.

The United States Supreme Court denied the application for another hearing of the Telephone case.

COUNTY CULLINGS.

F. J. Wissing, dropped dead on the streets of Healdsburg Wednesday night of heart trouble.

Mrs. Johnson, an old lady 83 years of age, who fell and broke one of her legs at Pine mountain, in this county, about a month ago, died from her injuries Saturday.

R. J. Humphreys, proprietor of a drug store in Santa Rosa, was found dead in bed last Saturday morning. An inquest developed the fact that he died from an overdose of morphine self-administered for the purpose of producing sleep. Deceased won $5,000 in the last drawing of the Louisana lottery.

Harry Swain met with a serious accident, while at work in the planing mill of Ludwig, Kroncke & Co., Monday afternoon. The cant-hook, with which he was guiding a large log, became loose and he was hurled backward with fearful violence. His head struck upon the sharp and splintered end of another log lying near, and was lacerated in a frightful manner. It is not known at present how seriously he is injured.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

Open for Traffic.

The first regular passenger train of the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad passed over that road last Thursday and it is now open for traffic. The road from Santa Rosa to Napa Junction, where it connects with the Southern Pacific system is 36.70 miles in length. This latter point is 38.31 miles from San Francisco making the entire distance from Santa Rosa to San Francisco 75.01 miles, which the railroad people expect to cover inside of four hours.

Time Schedule of the New Railroad.

Regular trains began running Thursday on the Santa Rosa and Carquinez branch of the Southern Pacific, uniting Napa Junction with Santa Rosa. The train that left San Francisco at 8 A. M., connected by way of Vallejo with an up-bound train for Santa Rosa. The time table as arranged gives two trains each way over the new line. The 4 P. M., train, leaving San Francisco daily for Napa, will connect at Napa Junction at 6:15, and Santa Rosa will be reached, according to schedule, at 8:10. Returning, a train will leave Santa Rosa daily at 5:50 A. M. connecting with the down Napa train and reaching San Francisco at 10:15. The 8 A. M. Napa train from the city will reach Santa Rosa on week days at 12:45. On Sundays better time will be made, and Santa Rosa will be reached about noon. On Wednesdays a train will leave Santa Rosa at 1:30 P. M., for San Francisco, but on Sundays the train will leave at 2 P. M.

Semi-Tropical Trees.

The habit of tree trimmers and gardeners of treating semi-tropical evergreen trees as they would hardy decidious trees is suicidal, for many of them have been killed by this method. Orange, eucalyptus, olive and all trees of their tender nature should be pruned in the spring and not in the fall, to suffer from the cold and set back if not ruined. The olive tree is not a slow grower, as compared to the orange, is very hardy, and for a shade tree in the city is beyond question desirable, as it will root well and stand the winds. The magnolia grandiflora is also one of the very best. These three varieties are suitable for moist, sandy or any kind of soil but require water. The fan-palm tree is the most hardy of all palms; never had a leaf touched by frost in this city; grows rapidly, attains a height of forty feet, and is elegant for a sidewalk tree. There are many others that would add to the beauty of the city. The pepper tree does well if planted where it can root in a stiff, dry soil, but is no tree for our wet seasons here, as it will not root, and blows down in any high wind.—Samuel Garrish, before the Sacramento Improvement Association.

How to Stack Hay.

Jacob Price gives in the Pacific Rural Press the following rules for stacking hay: "Put it up in long, narrow, high stacks made up of sections, each not more than forty feet long. In no case should the stack be over twenty feet wide—eighteen, or even sixteen is better. The stack may be any length (provided it is built in sections as above advised), and the higher the better. The stack should be built across the wind—that is to say, if the prevailing wind is from the west, the stack should be run north and south. The reason for this method is obvious. With such a stack the press is set on the east side, out of the wind, opposite the first section. The stack being narrow and the sections short, the hay can be easily and rapidly got across the stack to press (the wind assisting), none of it requiring to be moved much more than twenty feet. As soon as one section is finished, the press is moved to the next and the process is repeated. It costs no more to put hay into a long, narrow stack of a given height than it does in a short, broad one, forty or fifty feet square perhaps, and the amount of labor saved the bailer is something enormous. I have seen stacks built so broad that it was necessary for the bailer to cut them in two parts with a knife, or even a derrick-fork all of which is a needless waste of time and labor. This matter was not so important once as it now is, since the operation of presses has become so rapid.

They sometimes demand over 30 tons of hay in a day to keep them going, and if one of them happens to get placed alongside of a stack that is 30 or 40 feet broad there is a constant shout for "more hay" and the machine cannot be worked to its full capacity. When the stack is narrow, however, the table is kept full without undue effort and the work goes on rapidly.

A Stab in the Dark

Sometimes fails of its murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The Bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

Dear Sir: I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler,
327 Ellis street.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

Dear Sir: It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to

An editor works 365¼ days per year to get out 52 issues of a paper: that is work. Once in a while somebody pays him a year's subscription: that's capital; and once in a while a dead beat takes the paper for a year or two and then vanishes without paying for it: that's anarchy; but later on justice will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his deserts: that's hell.

The receipts of the Public School entertainment given at Union Hall on Friday evening of last week amounted to $69.50. Of this sum $14.50 were paid out for hall hire, printing, etc., leaving a balance of $55, which has been forwarded by Miss Lucie Frese, principal of the school, to the Treasurer of a Sonoma county fund which is being raised to help defray the expenses of the National Teachers' Association, which convenes in San Francisco, July 17th.

The open meeting of the Y. M. I., at Union Hall, last Tuesday evening was largely attended. An interesting programme was carried out in which the following took part: The Misses Maggie and Annie Biggins, Katie McDonell, and Messrs. J. Wilson, Ed. McCarty, Joe Hein, Geo. Small, G. Haraszthy, A. Robin, W. Wood and Mr. Burton. At the conclusion of the literary exercises, the floor was cleared and dancing was indulged in by about 75 couple, Girardi of San Francisco furnishing the music. Neither pains or expense were spared by the members of the Y. M. I. to make the affair a success and the result was a solid evening's enjoyment for those who were so fortunate as to be present.

Death of Valentine Hope.

On Thursday morning last the people of this city were greatly shocked at the announcement of the death of Valentine Hope, which occurred at his residence the previous evening about 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Hope was seen upon our streets a few hours before his death and although not in the very best of health no one would have suspected his end was so near. At half-past seven o'clock Wednesday evening he was seized with an attack of heart disease and two hours later had ceased to breathe. Up to within a few months ago the deceased gentleman was in the enjoyment of excellent health, when the first premonition of the disease which so suddenly carried him off made its appearance. He was out gunning on the hills a few miles north of town one day last Winter when without previous warning he staggered and pitched headlong down the side of a hill which he was descending. He remained unconscious for some little time and recovering made his way back to town and being unhurt by his fall paid little attention to the incident, thinking no doubt he had only been attacked with only a slight fainting spell. Later on, however, he was similarly stricken several times, and each recurring attack being more severe than the others it became evident that his heart was affected. On the morning of his death he had another fainting spell, but recovered sufficiently to walk down town and it was shortly after his return home that he was taken with the last and fatal attack.

Mr. Hope was one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Sonoma, having been a resident of the town for thirty-two years. Deceased leaves a wife and four daughters, who are greatly prostrated with grief at his sudden and unexpected demise. He was a genial, kind-hearted gentleman, a devoted husband and father, and a good citizen and his death is lamented by the entire community. Mr. Hope was the father of Mrs. Dr. H. H. Davis and Miss Claire Hope of this place, Mrs. Ella Woodward of Petaluma, and Miss Emma Hope, teacher of elocution in Napa College. He was a member of Temple Lodge, No. 14, F and A. M., under whose auspices his funeral was held yesterday. Deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, aged 59 years.

El Verano.

The depot building of the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad at El Verano is nearing completion. It is a handsome two-story structure and is located about two miles from the Plaza in this city, at the extreme northwestern corner of the Clark place, which has been purchased by the railroad people. The ranch, containing 777 acres, is being surveyed off into town lots, villa sites and small farms and the station will be known as El Verano. The establishment of a depot so far removed from Sonoma and the laying out of the town of El Verano is but the fulfillment of a prediction made in these columns on the 27th of November, 1886. From Napa Junction to Santa Rosa, a distance of 36 miles, thirteen other stations have been established, designated as follows: Merazo, Shellville, Elmdale, Yulupa, Hillgirt, Glen Ellen, Warfield, Drummond, Karnac, South Los Guilucos, Los Guilucos, Persic and Melitta.

Graduating Exercises.

The graduating exercises of the Sonoma High School took place at Union Hall on Friday evening of last week and were witnessed by one of the largest and most fashionable audiences that ever congregated in this city. The graduates, six in number, were: Eva Sydnor, Millie Skinner, Lottie R. Morris, Florence D. Linehan, Susie Cheney and Bessie C. Armstrong. Essays, showing deep thought and a thorough schooling, were read by each of the young lady graduates in an easy and graceful manner, all of whom were the recipients of handsome floral offerings from friends and admirers. The evening's programme was as follows:

Deputy Clerk Carver Dead.

H. E. Carver, Deputy Clerk of this county, died at his home in Alexander Valley, Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, his disease being a cancerous growth in the stomach. Deceased was a prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Clerk and very popular. He was a native of Maine and thirty-eight years of age.

I have this to say of the country editor. He is honest and hard working. He is moved, I might say governed, by a devotion to principle to which his metroplitan brother is a stranger. In his friendships he is outspoken and unflinching. He is true to his people and to his mission. —Roscoe Conkling.

THE RAILROAD QUESTION.

Is There to be War Between the Southern Pacific and Donahue People?

The railroad situation in this valley as regards the relations of Col. Donahue with the Southern Pacific Company is still in a muddled condition. Nothing certain is known of the intentions of either company. Some profess to believe that friendly relations exist betweew the two, while others declare that there is to be war—war to the knife and knife to the hilt—between the two companies. Recognizing the fact that anything bearing on this question is interesting reading we copy the following from the Chronicle of May 27th, and our readers can take it for what it is werth:

DONAHUE'S SCHEMES.

It is pretty generally known that the Southern Pacific Company will have completed next week a short and direct line extension from Napa to Santa Rosa, and also that by July 1st Colonel Donahue's thirty-mile extension from Cloverdale to Ukiah will be completed, but the fact that each one of these two railroad managers is trying to jostle the other has never before been publicly mentioned. For some time there has been a short-line railroad operated by private persons up in Humboldt county, extending south from Eureka to Centreville (the Eel River Railroad) a distance of thirty miles. This was a natural extension of Donahue's line, and he had made overtures to obtain its control, so as to eventually have it connect with his contemplated northern extension up the coast from Ukiah. Not a very long time since Donahue made the discovery that the Southern Pacific Company had purchased the Eureka and Centreville line, and then it did not take him long to figure out that the Southern Pacific's extension from Napa to Santa Rosa was to be the southern end of a contemplated parallel to the Donahue line from the Bay of San Francisco northward.

Soon after manipulations were concluded it became known to a select few, and is here now given to the world, that the recent railroad franchise granted to a private organization to construct a line from Oroville to Beckwith's pass in the Sierra Nevada mountains was a move in the interest of Donahue, who is now building a short line from the new town of Novato, on his main line, to Sonoma landing, to which his boats now run from the foot of Market street. The programme is to extend this line from Sonoma landing to Oroville, and there hitch on to the franchise from Oroville to Beckwith pass. It is apparent that this programme, when completed, will bring the Donahue road in direct competition with the Southern Pacific interests in the Sacramento valley, and the laying open of many important points of that system to direct competition both east and west, giving the people an opposition road and making a fine opening for another transcontinental railroad to reach this city. The Beckwith pass is 2000 feet lower than where the Central Pacific crosses the mountains, and from here an easy and practical connection might be made either with the Union Pacific's Oregon Short Line or with the western terminus of the Chicago and Northwestern, which is now in Wyoming Territory, about 100 miles west of Fort Fetterman on the Platte river. This general outlook is thought to be what is contemplated by Colonel Donahue and his advisers; at all events it is asserted that his present mission to New York is in part to float the necessary bonds to construct a road from Sonoma Landing on San Pablo bay to Beckwith pass via Oroville. The invasion of Colonel Donahue's territory by the building of the Southern Pacific to Santa Rosa and the securing of the Eel River Railroad at Eureka will of course curtail his large revenues from the prosperous city of Santa Rosa and other business centers along the Donahue line, and to offset which he undoubtedly expects a corresponding gain by invading the Southern Pacific's Sacramento valley territory.

A building belonging to A. J. Pimm of Healdsburg was destroyed by fire last Tuesday afternoon. Loss $2,500; no insurance. Sparks from the burning building ignited several houses in the vicinity and for a time it looked as though there was going to be a general conflagration. Prompt action however saved the town and the fire was confined to the one building.

The Board of Education met last Monday night to receive bids for building the new school house. Four bids were received as follows: Ed. Hedges, $13,189; Wm. Camm, $10,925; Jas. Kill, $12,990; A. Walker, $13,041. The Board will meet to-morrow, Thursday night, to pass upon the bids. It is more than probable that all the bids be will rejected and proposals again invited.

The store of C. A. Kelly on Main street was burglarized last Sunday evening about 6 o'clock. The burglar got in by breaking out a panel in the back door. He took $10 20, all there was in the money drawer. A little girl living in the second story of the building saw the burglar as he was leaving and thinks she would recognize him on sight.

As Patsy Lawler was about entering the Fashion Stables on Washington street last Sunday after a ride in the saddle, his horse slipped and fell to the rock pavement, he being under. Upon being rescued from under the horse it was found that his shoulder was dislocated and he was otherwise bruised and injured Dr. Patty was called in and reduced the dislocation. Mr. Lawler, though badly hurt, it is thought will soon be around again.

The announcement has just been made that a paper coffin has been invented and placed upon the market. A man may now build his house with paper, eat his dinner from paper dishes, wipe his face with a paper handkerchief, buy his daughter a paper piano and go to his grave in a paper coffin. The coffin may be paid for with a piece of paper and the death published on another piece. There are few things like paper. Now is the time to subscribe.—Ex.

A SERIOUS AFFAIR.

Postmaster Hood Accused of Malfeasance in Office.

E. Gardner, of the Santa Rosa police force, is about to bring suits against Lee McReynolds, his son-in-law, for criminally opening a letter addressed to E. Gardner, and Postmaster Hood for malfeasance in office, on the ground, as alleged, that he withheld a letter directed to E. Gardner and delivered it without authority to another person. Mr. Gardner relates that his daughter, Mrs. Lee McReynolds, of Valley Ford, mailed a letter to him on Saturday last containing a Wells, Fargo & Co. money order for $10. He inquired for the letter at the postoffice in this city at three different times, but was told that it had not arrived. He informed his daughter of the evident miscarriage of the letter, and on her arrival in this city she inquired in person for the letter, but was told that it had not arrived. After another inquiry had been made Mrs. McReynolds telegraphed to A. Kahn, the postmaster at Valler Ford, regarding the letter, and received a reply to the effect that it had been forwarded with the other mail matter for Santa Rosa Sunday morning and must be in the postoffice at Santa Rosa. Another inquiry was made, but with no better success. Two or three days afterward Lee McReynolds took the letter from the postoffice, where it seems it had been lying since Sunday evening, and opening it took therefrom the money order which he tried to have cashed at Wells, Fargo & Co's office. Mr. Proctor refused to honor the order until presented by the person in whose favor it was drawn. Mr. Gardner was in the office at the time and saw McReynolds present the order for payment. Mr. Gardner, on the grounds as above set forth, will bring suit as stated. The offense with which McReynolds is charged is punishable by servitude in the State Prison. Democrat.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

Wonderful Cures.

Mr. N. H. Frohlichstein, of Mobile, Ala., writes: I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, having used it for a severe attack of Bronchitis and Catarrh. It gave me instant relief and entirely cured me and I have not been afflicted since. I also beg to state that I had tried other remedies with no good result. Have used Electric Bitters and Dr. King's New Life pills, both of which I can recommend. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, is sold on a positive guarantee. SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1888.

AN AMERICAN WOMAN'S STORY

Of What She Saw in Mexico—Characteristics of the People.

It is said of the Mexicans, as of the Russians, that in repose a deep sadness is expressed in their eyes. The Mexicans are good character readers, and especially note the bearing of strangers. They are very polite and hospitable, and very proud. The higher classes of society in Mexico are almost as exclusive as the court circles of Europe. A middle class is growing up in Mexico. Mexican salutations are exceedingly cordial. "Men fall into each other's arms and remain thus for several minutes, patting each other on the shoulder and indulging in all sorts of endearing epithets." Another salutation, even between friends of opposite sex, is thus described: "In the quickest, most spirited manner, the arms of both parties are outstretched, they rush together for a second, their breasts barely touch, and while the observer is watching for a kiss to follow this ardent salute, they separate and the abrazo is finished. The extreme frankness accompanying it compels one to admire the custom; for it means no more than hand shaking among the Americans." If friends meet twenty times a day they must pause to shake hands.

At the capital one day there was seen two splendid carriages, each occupied by one man. The carriages halted, both men alighted, "removed hats, shook hands, embraced, talked for a few moments, again embraced, shook hands, bowed, took off hats, and each entered his carriage and went his way." The formal salutation between women is a tap of the right hand on the left shoulder, and then a generous shake of the hand. Women who are intimate friends not only tap the shoulder, but lay their cheeks softly together for an instant. A lady traveler commends this sort of feminine salutation, and evidently prefers it greatly to the American form of greeting on the lips.

The Mexican makes really as many gestures as a Frenchman, and has quite an extensive social sign language. Their blowing of kisses from the fingers is a graceful demonstration. A certain position of the thumb and forefinger signifies "stop a moment." One arm held half upright, with the elbow in the other hand, means "he is too stingy to pay his debts;" one hand rubbed across the forearm, "he plays on the credulity of his friends;" the palm held outward, with thumb and forefinger forming a circle, "she is very rich;" the fingers of one hand closed, except the thumb and little finger, "he's a sharper." Educated Mexican men are great skeptics in religious matters—except when they are very sick. The people are temperate. Young girls are called "pullets;" marriageable men, "young or old roosters," and the street arabs who ogle ladies are known as "lizards." Americans who have married Mexican women find it necessary to live in Mexico, for their wives are very unhappy elsewhere. Mexican children are never struck. Corporal punishment in schools is prohibited by law. Correction takes the form of persuasion and appeal. The result is that in all classes a gentle courtesy and consideration for others prevail.

Hoodlum children are unknown in Mexico. A hoodlum child is one who has been cuffed and abused until he naturally (that is, according to the examples set him) begins to kick and pound others who are weaker than himself. The step from this to other deeds of violence is short.

One cannot tell half of the graces and courtesies of the Mexican children. "In the alameda, with kindly deference, they will always yield to elderly and infirm persons their own cozy and shady seats. On entering a sala, where there are few or many guests, these exquisitely polite little gentlemen will go all around, shaking hands with every one present. They never break into the conversation, but when addressed will modestly join it; then, wishing to retire, will say, 'with your kind permission,' and, again shaking hands, move gracefully from the company. Girls are no less imbued with the same spirit of courtesy. A Mexican boy never thinks himself too near manhood to pay the compliment to his mother of kissing her hand every time he comes into her presence."

The Mexican flowers are very deeply colored. "If red, it is the most glowing and intense; if yellow or purple, the richest; if white or pink, the purest and most delicate." Fresh flowers are abundant and cheap throughout the year, including roses, pansies, sweet peas, heliotropes, camellias and magnificent poppies. "Calla lilies, the size of a fan, bloom luxuriant in every ditch," and the geraniums are as tall as a man. The most remarkable flower is the "tree of the little hands," a native of the colder region. The bright red flowers are well defined miniature hands. It is slow of growth, not reaching full size in 100 years. In the Valley of Mexico fifty varieties of lilies, no two alike, bloom on mountain, crag and plain.

The mortality of the City of Mexico is fearful and half of it is due to lung and diarrheal diseases. The Mexican capital can hardly be said to have any system of drainage and sewerage. Catarrh is common among the Mexicans, and when they have colds they do not allow water to touch their faces. They have very few nervous diseases. The cadence of their lives is too measured for that.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette Book Review.

Source of Pure Water.

The best water is that which has gone deepest in the earth, where there is the tightest pressure, atmospheric and telluric. Continued and intensified filtration has refined it; but it is here, and not in its open air exposure, before or after, that the water gets effective oxidation. The remarkable fact that water absorbs oxygen in something like a geometrical ratio to the increase of pressure, coupled with the other equally important fact that under a certain pressure and temperature organic germs cease to exist; both these conditions, protracted for the water by a long detention in the depths of the earth, secure the rarest refinement and also vitalization of the element.—Sanitary Era.

The Irish giant (7 feet 5 inches) is dead. An appropriate epitaph would seem to be: Gone to his long home.

Cure of Cancer and Ulcers.

Judge T. C. McLendon writes to the Swift Specific Co.: "About three years ago, Jerry Bradley had a cancerous sore on his face, near the right eye. It caused him a great deal of pain, and he lost the sight of the eye but was finally cured by the use of Swift's Specific. This case is well known in Wilkes Co., Ga., where he lived."

Mr. L. Cox, of Arkabutla, Tate Co., Miss., writes: "I suffered a great deal from ulcers for years. Your medicine was recommended, and after using six bottles was completely cured. Your medicine does even more than you claim for it. I have known it to cure cases which were thought hopeless."

Mrs. A. M. Goldsmith, No. 674 St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I commenced using S. S. S. about three years ago. I had suffered much with a sore throat for over a year. I used a great many other remedies with no good results. My little girl, also, had sore fingers; it commenced from the quick, and then the nails would come off. We doctored her for over two years, and when I began using S. S. S. I thought I would see what it would do for her. I am thankful to say that it entirely cured her. It is the best remedy I know of for the blood. I really believe it was the means of saving my life. The docter told me I had a throat disease similar to General Grant's. I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from disordered blood.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT in pursuance of an order made by the Judge of the above-named Superior Court on the tenth day of May, 1888, authorizing and allowing the same, the testimony of Mrs. Anna M. Harding, residing in Sonoma County, State of California, will be taken in the above-entitled proceeding before F. Breitenbach, a Notary Public residing in the town of Sonoma, Sonoma County, State of California, at his office in said town, on WEDNESDAY, the 15th day of August, 1888, at 12 o'clock noon and at such other times to which the same may be continued.

The facts sought to be established by the said testimony are as follows, to-wit: That on or about the 22d day of December, 1873, the aforesaid Anna M. Harding, being then the wife of Isaac Harding, purchased of one Jabish Clement for the consideration of four thousand dollars or thereabouts, that certain lot of land in the town of Sonoma known and designated on the official map of the aforesaid town of Sonoma as out lot number (515) five hundred and fifteen. That the said consideration so paid was money which was the sole and separate property and estate of the said Anna M. Harding, and that the said property thereby became, and was at all times thereafter while owned by her, the separate property and estate of the said Anna M. Harding, and that her husband, Isaac Harding, had no right, title or interest in or to the same.

Witness my hand and the seal of the above-named Superior Court of the County of Sonoma, State of California, this 10th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight (1888.)

[Seal of Court.] J. F. MULGREW, County Clerk and Ex-officio Clerk of the Superior Court of Sonoma County, California.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.
